The results for the clique algorithm are written to the set that is specified in the CLIQUES= suboption of the OUT= option. Each node of each clique is listed in the set along with a clique ID (the first argument of the tuple) to identify the clique to which it belongs. A node can appear multiple times in this set if it belongs to multiple cliques.

The results of the clique algorithm are written to the output data set that is specified in the OUT= option in the CLIQUE statement. Each node of each clique is listed in the output data set along with the variable clique to identify the clique to which it belongs. A node can appear multiple times in this data set if it belongs to multiple cliques.
